

At Charlotte Country Day, we pride ourselves on delivering unique and authentic global experiences to our middle and upper school students.

We value working with travel providers who work collaboratively to design safe, purposeful, student-centered experiential learning opportunities abroad. Our Human Family has consistently exceeded our expectations through a highly personalized approach. Throughout the planning process, challenges have been met with creative and effective solutions. Careful consideration has been given to keeping overall costs as low as possible without compromising the overall quality of the experience. Our experience working with Our Human Family on programs in Martinique, as well as current plans in Bolivia and Paraguay, have left us satisfied and enthusiastic with regards to expanding our work together on into the future.

I would recommend Our Human Family to any organization that seeks truly unique and customized global educational experiences for their students!

David Lynn

Director of International Studies